Car Share Clubs - a 21st century way of having access to a vehicle.

The border market town of Kington has its own Car Share Club. This is a type of car rental system, part of a growing trend for shared mobility, where club members can use a vehicle which they book via an on-line reservation system.

If you are an occasional car user or sometimes need access to a second vehicle without incurring the expense of actual ownership, membership of a Car Share Club could be right for you.

The operating system is simple: the Club owns a vehicle or vehicles which members can hire for periods of time. Membership includes a one-off joining fee plus a modest annual subscription which goes towards the cost of road tax, insurance and maintenance. After that, members just pay a very modest hourly rate plus a mileage charge whenever they use the vehicle.

Currently, Kington Car Share Club's joining fee is £20, with a £60 a year subscription, this can be spread over 12 monthly instalments of £5.. Says the Kington Car Share Club's longest standing member, Richie Cotterill; "Our club is popular with both private and business users, especially as the costs can be offset against tax. Kington Car Share Club is supported by 'Kleen' which is a local group of people who want to improve the environment in which they live. Our ultimate aim is to run the Car Share Club using electric vehicles".
